

3 –Day Art Classes February 22-24, 2010

Georgetown Homeschool Group Presents

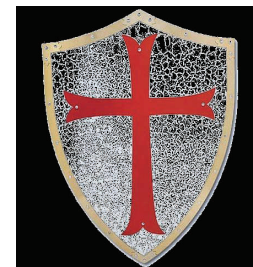

How Great Thou Art Workshop with Artist and Teacher Barry Stebbing

Barry Stebbing, creator of How Great Thou ART Publications, has been traveling the United States and Canada for many years teaching beginning drawing and painting classes to homeschoolers. It is estimated that he and his wife have personally instructed over 60,000 homeschoolers in this manner. The purpose of this course is to inspire students to do good works, to show them that God has given each and every one of them ability to create, and that drawing and painting are learned disciplines. The course includes teaching many of the basic fundamentals of beginning drawing and painting, an introduction to art appreciation (studying the great masters), and new techniques in the use of colored markers and colored pencils

Note: Classes are subject to change according number of registrations, etc.

3-Day Art Classes:

1. Classes are Monday 8:45 to 11:30 am. Tuesday & Wednesday classes are from 9:00 –11:30.
2. Tuition for class is $33.00 if student is registered and payment made by January 18th, 2010. That means you will receive quality art lessons from a nationally acclaimed Christian Artist for just about $4.00 an hour. That friends is quite a deal! We will limit the number of registrations to 70 students. After the 18th we will open the registration to other Christian Schools. The price will be $35.00 after the 18th.
3. Parents are invited and encouraged to take the class. You will learn a lot just observing! But taking the class will be a blessing to you and will give you the confidence to encourage art in your homeschool. The price is the same. Classes are geared for ages 5 years and up. (mature 5 year olds; must be able to sit for the entire class with one break time) This is also a great beginning art experience and portfolio builder for high schoolers.
4. All materials will be provided except colored pencils and colored markers. Recommended materials will be available for purchase at the registration table the first day of classes at a reasonable price. Each student will need at least a standard set of colored pencils and colored markers. You do not need expensive tools for art but it becomes frustrating if your tools are too cheaply made.
 - Cost of Prismacolor colored pencils:
standard set of 12- $ 7.50 or optional set of 24-$15.00
 - Set of 8 watercolor markers-$4.00

Registration

There is no charge for parents to be in the class and this is encouraged. You will learn from observing and will be seated at the back of the classroom/gym. The only charge is for those who are actually taking the class.

Students in Grades K-4 will need one parent (please no teen sibling chaperones) for every four students. Parent helpers will also be asked to help with cleaning paint brushes and with clearing tables and chairs at the end of classes. Please, no toddlers in the classroom. Our purpose is to teach the students and preschoolers are just too distracting. You will want to coordinate team parenting (you keep my toddlers today and I will keep yours tomorrow) for this event. \

There will be one 15 minute break and it is suggested that you bring a healthy snack that includes protein. On Monday you will want to consider packing lunches as we will conclude art lessons at 11:30 and line up for Co-op beginning at 12:15 that day.

If you are experiencing unusual financial difficulties and would like to send a letter of explanation to Mr. Stebbing, he invites you to contact him directly so that something can be worked out for your student.
